Aeon Arrowood is a self-taught emerging artist. Working primarily in acrylic, they employ bold colours, gradient skies, and sometimes metallic finishes to transform an emotion into a physical and tangible work of art. Their passion for the arts stem from their introduction to the arts at a early age, in a family that enjoys galleries, museums, and shows.

Artist Statement

I create things I consider beautiful. Inspired by the landscapes around me, mundane interactions with the environment I have, and stories that I hold close to my heart. I create to decorate the world around me.
